

Aesthetics

- Only important or relevant information is presented on each page.
- A clear call-to-action is available on the homepage.
- Design conventions are used when appropriate.
- A clean, visually scannable, and organized layout is employed on each page.

Anything else I should know?

Type any notes or other items you would like the instructor to know or consider here. You may leave blank if not necessary.

I am nto sure I will ever be happy with aesthetics on my websites. I am too picky and not the best at intuitively making things look nice.
